ConnectUR 2026: Now Accepting Submissions

Submit a Proposal + Register to Attend

- Learn More about Vertically Integrated Projects: Join Dr. Edward Coyle from the Georgia Institute of Technology for this CUR Conversation webinar as he shares the history, essential elements, and future of the VIP model.
- What's Your Favorite Article? SPUR 9.1 was released last week and explores a broad array of timely and thought-provoking topics centered on the responsible and ethical conduct of undergraduate research.
- Less Than Three Weeks Remain for NCUR Submissions: The National Conference on Undergraduate Research (NCUR) celebrates undergraduate researchers in all fields of study from all institution types and provides opportunities to network with the larger research community. NCUR 2026 is also for faculty and mentors to share their invaluable insights and initiatives.
- Unlock the Next Level of Your Professional Development: CUR's on-demand learning courses on Assessment and Funding are developed for flexibility and impact and present practical strategies and expert insight to equip you with the tools to lead with confidence.

Confidently Navigate Today's Complex Funding Landscape

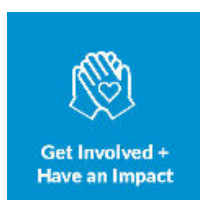

"Our partnership with NGMA brings new expertise and perspective to Grant Dialogues, ensuring that participants are better equipped to navigate the complexities of research funding. This collaboration allows us to provide timely, relevant, and forward-thinking professional development that supports both the faculty and institutions driving undergraduate research."

Lindsay Currie, CAE, CUR Executive Officer

- Last Chance to Apply: Ready to leave your mark on the field of undergraduate research? Apply by Monday, November 17 to become the next Editor-in-Chief of SPUR!
- Because 'Thank You' Never Goes Out of Style: Take part in our Thankful Month Kindness-gram campaign to thank those who have inspired and helped you as you developed your UR programs or inspired you to start one.
- Join Our Vibrant Community of Leaders: CUR is now accepting nominations for elected volunteer leadership positions. This is an esteemed opportunity to gain national leadership experience, collaborate with colleagues, and help guide the future of your organization.

- Passionate About Mentoring? Then apply to be a part of CUR's new Member Mentoring Program Working Group. This working group will develop a pilot plan for a CUR-wide mentoring initiative designed to enhance professional growth, member engagement, and support for undergraduate research practitioners.
- New Advocacy Resource: Catch the latest video update from our advocacy partner, Bose Public Affairs Group, for insights on what's happening in Washington, DC post-shutdown.
 - Help Shape What's Next: Take a moment to share your thoughts in our quick feedback form. Your input will help us plan future webinars and programming that address the advocacy topics most relevant to you and your campus.

- Are You an Outstanding Arts and Humanities Mentor? Nominations are being accepted for the CUR Arts & Humanities Faculty Mentor Award, which recognizes exemplary faculty mentors of undergraduate researchers. Apply by January 16.
- Apply Today for the Trimmer Travel Fund Award: This award of $1000 supports arts and humanities undergraduate scholars in presenting their research at professional meetings. The deadline to apply is January 16.
- Featured UR Story: This story from Utah State University showcases how undergraduate research is expanding scientific understanding and shaping students' lives.
 - Has your institution recently highlighted your program or researchers? Email Todd Waggoner with the link to the story to become a future Featured UR Story
- Want to be Friends? Follow CUR's social media, see links below, to celebrate all that CUR and your institutions are doing to advance the importance and impact of undergraduate research.
